

CITY OF WEWA 2021 BUDGET WORKSHOP

Commission Reduces Budget & Saves money for Taxpayers!

by Tom Wynn

With the City of Wewahitchka in good financial condition overall, now we know why. The City Commission worked hard last week during a workshop to reduce line items to save tax dollars and pay for repairs to the water system and other issues that were brought up by a few of the Commissioners as well as Chipper Wade and Michael Gortman (the city's leadership). Following Mayor Phillip Gaskin's lead, the City Commission lowered expenses and moved money around to cover much needed repairs around the city, which included sewage and water systems breakdowns, and rainwater drainage issues.

The Mayor and the Commissioners worked their way down each line item in the upcoming budget. I was amazed how they all worried over every dollar making sure that all expenditures were justified. They questioned everything that looked to be over budget or too expensive. They ordered two items to be bid on to reduce costs.

The line items that needed repair were given more funds with orders to get them repaired as soon as possible. While others were reduced because new technology was cheaper and easier to obtain. The City Clerks and City Manager need new laptops. This subject matter will be investigated more before the Commission approves any purchases.

THE CITY COMMISSION SET ASIDE THE NEW RV ORDINANCE FIRST READING

by Tom Wynn

The City Commission voted to not do the first read of the new City RV Ordinance no. 2021-1213L on Thursday evening during the August City Council Meeting. Since several changes were made during a workshop by the Commission, none had a chance to read the changes since the workshop. The city lawyer made the changes and submitted the new document to the City Commission, but none had read the agreed changes as of yet. Even though they took a few minutes to read the document, none of the public had a chance to read the ordinance either. So, the Mayor made a motion to hold off with the first read until the September meeting. The public can see the ordinance on the City of Wewa website or ask for a copy at the temporary City Hall next to Lake Alice Park. Other City business included poor water pressure at the end of Juhu Cemetery Road (Chipper Wade and crew will install a brand new 2-inch water pipe, authorized by Mayor Gaskin immediately).

Gulf County Sheriff Mike Harrison asked for a budget increase and was granted the new budget contract with the City to do additional policing in our fair city 24/7/365. The City has a good relationship with Sheriff Harrison, so they were glad to give his department an increase this year.

WEWA HISTORICAL GROUP NEWS

by Tom Wynn

The group met for their third time on the 19th of August. They will start the process of voting in officers during the September meeting. The September meeting will be an important one as the Old Court House will be a major topic once again. The Mayor of Wewa, Phillip Gaskin, has requested that the Historical Group get with the city to do a workshop on Juhu Cemetery. It needs repair and cleaning. He stated in a city workshop that he desired to clean, repair, and add dirt to the cemetery. Tom Wynn suggested that the city crew and the Wewahitchka History Group work with the city as a project during a cooler month, such as November. The Cemetery needs love and the human touch. It holds some of our dearest relatives and friends remains in its soil. The Group has had this very topic in mind for the past several months now. They discussed going to the Iola grave sites to investigate their condition as well, finding their locations to restore what is there for future generations, and to protect them using state laws. James Rish gave his expert knowledge as to the condition and location of at least two to three cemeteries in the Iola area. Discussion was made about the old Iola Post Office location as well. Rish knows exactly where it was, as he placed bee boxes there as a boy and as a man often. Tom Wynn mentioned the old court house will be 100 years old in 2025 and strongly suggested that the City and the Wewahitchka Historical Group think about a festival that would last two days as an event. Mr. Wynn also discussed this idea with the Chamber of Commerce President Joe Whitmer - director@gulfchamber.org. Come join us!

Anna Kaitlyn Rich Doctorate in Nursing Practice

Wewahitchka born and raised Anna Kaitlyn Rich graduated April 2021 with her Doctorate in Nursing Practice from the Florida State University, Tallahassee. She has joined the Internal Medicine Practice Chipola Medical Associates, LLC, with locations in Port St. Joe and Marianna, FL.

Kaitlyn, as she is known about Wewahitchka, grew up in its natural beauty and warm family atmosphere. She is the daughter of the Honorable Phillip and Mrs. K-Leah Gaskin, and wife of Stetson Rich, also a lifelong resident of Wewahitchka. Kaitlyn and Stetson have one daughter, Adalyn, soon to be three years old.

Kaitlyn's biggest influence in her decision to enter the health professions was her grandmother. The late Mrs. Gaskin was an RN with a master's in nursing, who spent her career teaching students to become professional nurses. Kaitlyn said, "Wanting to become a Nurse Practitioner in the healthcare field allows me to provide care in a capacity different than an RN." She is so excited to have completed her formal education and begin practicing.

Growing up in rural Wewahitchka shaped Kaitlyn in many ways into the lovely person she is today. Her warm personality, keen clinical mind, and bright affect draw people to her. Kaitlyn said, "you have such a better appreciation for things when you grow up in a small town." She continued, "you know everyone and feel a strong bond to the community."

Kaitlyn thanks her many teachers, family, friends, church congregation and all who helped her reach this stage of her life. She invites all to come see her in her new role as healthcare provider. She can be reached at (850) 526-3434 and joins Diplomate and Board Certified ABIM Joe Gay, MD; Julie Harris, DNP, Susan Smith, DNP; Virginia Fleener, APRN; Heather Tatum, APRN; and John Tyler Ellerbee, APRN at Chipola Medical Associates, LLC. She looks forward to seeing and helping those that lifted her up to be a success in life. Contributor: Rosie Gay

OPEN LETTER TO CITY OF WEWA COMMISSION:

July 29, 2021

From: Senior Chief Tom Wynn, Jr., USCG Retired
To: City Commission, Wewahitchka, Florida
Subject: New City Hall, Wewahitchka Historical Museum, Rental Office Spaces Proposal
Attached: Federal Grant; State of Florida Grant and other possible Grant information

Dear Mayor Phillip Gaskin and City Commissioners,

Greetings! I introduced a new idea for the City of Wewahitchka to purchase the old Gulf County Courthouse (which is in disrepair and was damaged by Hurricane Michael) from Gulf County for $1.00, to restore it completely with Federal and State Grants to its former glory, as well as modernize it as needed.

Windows were left open, causing further damage to the inside of the buildings with mold and water damage. After Hurricane Michael caused water damage to my home, mold remediation experts advised me not to open windows or doors as it helps the mold to grow faster. The old Courthouse needs to be restored to its former glory and upgraded to modern building codes. It would be wasteful to not repair and use it again.

I presented this idea during our last City workshop concerning grants and RVs. I offered to research the federal laws which state there is grant money for historical buildings and items of historical value to states, counties, cities, groups, and individuals.

The building is presently on the National and State of Florida historical lists and it would be a crying shame to even think of tearing it down at this point in our history. I know "We the People" would not stand for it, for sure. If the county has no use for the structure, we, the City of Wewahitchka, could purchase it from them for a small dollar amount and create our much-needed new City Hall, as well as a Wewahitchka City Historical Museum on the second floor. The building is one of only three in the State of Florida that has a floor like our courthouse does. It is a very rare building according to the information I obtained from our former county commissioner, Billy Traylor, during my research on this matter.

Any rooms not used for the city hall or for the museum could be rented out to local businesses, Gulf County Chamber of Commerce, lawyers, and accountants, for additional revenue to help with maintenance and repairs in the future. This all would take place after the complete restoration of the building and its grounds (approximately 2 years or less in construction, I estimate as well as others).

Our 100th year celebration of the forming of Gulf County is coming up in 2025. The Old Court house began its construction in the year 1925 and was completed in 1927. It would do the city good to have a great celebration on the Court house grounds and at Lake Alice for several days in 2025, restoration of the courthouse buildings, finished or not!

The newly formed Wewahitchka Historical Group is presently researching our local history, as well as the two ghost towns of Iola, Florida. Many folks in the Wewa and surrounding area desire to have a local historical museum to house their personal historical objects. These objects that can tell the story of the roots of Florida and their ancestors' lifestyles; working machines and devices, as well as daily tools and cooking utensils that their ancestors left behind. This includes local Indian, trappers, fishermen and paddle boat artifacts, which could be displayed in the museum. These things that recorded our history and their struggles to create such a paradise for their future generations. We need a place to display and admire our history before it is lost in time and dust. We the people, the public at large, is asking you to do what is best for Wewahitchka and for the north end of Gulf County, Florida.

We need to teach and tell stories of our ancestors, so they can never be forgotten. They worked hard to create our paradise and in God they trusted to make it a place of peace, love, and joy. We truly love one another and this ground in which we live upon.

We are the guardians of what they built and left behind for us to enjoy and ponder. It is our duty to protect and preserve their symbol of strength and power to live in peace with one another, in law, and mutual respect. The old Gulf County Court house is our symbol of that love and respect for our history and for our future generations "Lift Up Wewa!"

With All Sincerity,

Thomas William Wynn, Junior USCG Retired ARR (UCC 1-305)

Wewahitchka, Its True Meaning

by Tom Wynn

The true Creek Indian name, English translation for “Wewahitchka” means, “Place of many waters” or literally, “Water is Here” according to the then-sitting Creek Indian Chief Alonso when we questioned him about the name during an interview in the documentary I filmed, produced, and directed called: “Tupelo Honey & The Amazing World of Beekeeping.” We filmed it during the 2002 Tupelo honey season in Gulf County and it featured our local beekeeper James E. “Jim” Rish. The video has been published on YouTube.

A WORD OF ENCOURAGEMENT

by Grandpa Tom

Our lives begin in momma’s womb. I figure that a good example of our lives would be an hourglass. It is turned over the second our heart beats in our mother’s inner most being.

As the sand begins to flow down to the bottom of the hourglass we begin to exist. As we come out into the air, we cry because we love the peace of her womb. The air is cold and dry. It is full of sound and noise of many people surrounding us. Our eyes are weak, yet we can see shadows.

We miss the peace and joy of our mother’s body. As we grow, we begin our new existence in the world of pain and suffering. We are trained to breath and take what is given to us.

We pray to our Creator as we learn about his existence from those that love us. Our arms and legs begin to grow and develop into tools of travel work, and play.

Heaven sent us down to learn how to love one another and our Creator. Our hearts beat to the tune set before us. We were loved before we were born. Our hairs were counted, our breath was measured, our heart beats are limited. Our hourglass is ever flowing down.

24/7 we breath and we eat, sleep, and live our days, but they are short. Do we waste our time, or do we do what we came to do?

Everyone must decide what we should do. The wise learn fast and get the joy of life before it ends. The meaning is clear to those that search it out. The meaning of life is for you to glorify your Creator.

Now it is up to you, to do that, or not! If you should choose to glorify yourself, you are reaping your reward, nothing! If you glorify the adversary, you are reaping your reward, nothing!

Your hourglass is running down faster than you thought. Isn’t it time that you thought of Him instead of yourself? He cries out, “Come home my son, my daughter. I await you, coming down the path of forgiveness. Come before it is too late my child.”

Fathers, raise you children to love one another and to love others in immediate need. Give them the tools in which to love and be in peace with their Maker. Give them the knowledge to live in peace and joy-or not! You will pay later, when you have grandchildren, they will show you how you raised your children.

Will shame come upon your face, or will joy come to you, like a bright morning, full of joy and happiness in your old age? It is up to you how you use your hourglass of time.

Be of good cheer, for if you used that time well, it will be a glorious day when you raise up and see all those that you loved so much, again. As your hourglass runs out of sand, and the light grows dim, be happy for you because you will be in peace, and rest again. Your next hourglass will never run low of sand.

Forgiveness is your power in this world, do it often. Love others as you would want to be loved. Seek (Continues on page 6) peace and you will find it. Pray often, for it brings joy to the heart. Be a good father, and good husband and, a good friend. Only you can do this. No one can force you to love others, forgive others, miss those that passed, forgive yourself and move on. Be a man that when you are gone, you will be sorely missed.

THE NEW WEWAHITCHKA FIREHOUSE BONES COME TOGETHER!

by Tom Wynn

Our brand new, shiny penny ($1,126,000) of a firehouse is finally starting to look like a building. Because of so many rain days, the construction crews have had a time getting the thing into place. Finally, it is starting to look like a building of large size. As they continue to build it I will do my best to give records of its progress. Commissioners Ralph Fisher, Brian Cox, and Mayor Phillip Gaskin have construction experience, they are keeping eye on its construction. Commissioner Fisher has built many of these type structures and knows what it takes to build such a building. While Commissioner Brian Cox is a longtime volunteer firefighter and knows what the building needs to have to store our Fire Trucks and gear. So, all is in good hands.

Our city fathers are hard at work making sure that the construction is moving along and keeping an "Eagle Eye" on the cost change as well. FEMA granted our sweet little city the money to build us a new "hotspot" to store all our firefighting trucks and equipment. Due to all the rain days the contractor asked for an additional 72 days to completion, it was granted by the commission by vote. With all said and done it should be completed by December 25, 2021 and paid in full. Our City Commissioner Brian Cox is on top of things and keeps a very close eye on the work and the costs overruns. Thank you Brian Cox! Thank you, Ralph Fisher, for letting all know of any errors in construction. In the end Wewa did good job on this plan. TW

Poem By “Calvin” Willy Rollin Jr.

This is Mr. George Armstrong (of Wewahitchka) and his buffalo that he bought in Alabama. George Armstrong was uncle to Kenny Armstrong. He purchased a special saddle and rode him for years.

Ode to Raleigh

Ornery old man you did it again
From somewhere near the state line you came
With a truck trailer and a god-awful thing in tow
From the time you drove up grandma wanted to know
What is this thing you’ve drug in and does it have a name?
Raleigh it is and with it a fortune I’ll claim
I’ll train this thing and a saddle for it I’ll find I’ll comb it and bathe it and make it refine
Then at the Bonifay rodeo I’ll make a show
When I ride out like Jubal Sackett on my buffalo
Well old man this did not go so well
Raleigh at the Bonifay rodeo was never rode
This big buffalo the world never knew
To us who knew this big beast the dinner plates
where he made his debut.

The Redneck Poet 09/06/2000 8:00 Pm
The baby buffalo that granddad bought near Alabama. The buffalo was trained to ride. Granddad was going to buy a saddle the afternoon he was killed. Raleigh ate 2000 lbs. of feed a week, he weighed in at 2000
lbs. and was a little over 6 ft tall. WR

You're invited to local History Scan Days at the Wewa Library! You're Invited to Local History Scan Days at the Wewa Library! The library was recently awarded a grant from the American Library Association, Libraries Transforming Communities, Focus on Small and Rural Libraries. Our grant was submitted with the focus on Wewahitchka's rich history. We invite everyone to join us at one of our Local History Scan Days to bring in your photographs and documents that represent Wewa's history, families, and stories. We will not keep your photos or documents; everything will be scanned and documented, then returned at that time. These scanned images will be archived at the library and will be used for future local history projects.

Due to COVID-19 we are taking extra precautions to keep everyone safe. It is recommended that each person wear a mask and maintain social distancing, especially since our meeting room is small. The meeting room has a direct entrance at the front of the building, which will be used when the library is closed (Saturday). The room will have a limit of 8 people always including workers. It is recommended that you call the library at (850) 639-2419 to set up an appointment for the scanning of your photographs.

We are still in search of Wewahitchka High School yearbooks for our local history collection and to have digitized. We are looking for the following years: 1950-1955, 1964, 1968-1969, 1974, 1976-1979, 1985-1992, 1999-2002, 2005, 2011-2012, 2015. If you are unable to donate your books to the library, we are accepting loans for them to be digitize them. Several people have recently stopped by the library to look at the Wewahitchka yearbooks on our shelves. Thank you to anyone that has donated your yearbooks to our library. (Continues on page 10)

September is National Library Card Sign Up Month. In celebration, we are offering two drawings—one for adults and one for children. Adults will receive a raffle ticket for a Starbucks Coffee Gift Pack, for every 5 items checked out at the library. New adult cards will receive two tickets. We would like to thank Hungry Howie's Pizza for sponsoring the children's raffle. Each child that gets a new library card or uses their own library card to check out items in the library, will receive a raffle ticket to win a free pizza. Drawings will be held Thursday September 30th.

The Library is currently open Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday 9-5 CT. Phone: 850-639-2419. Joyelle is the Branch Manager of The Northwest Regional Library System-Charles Whitehead Public Library.

Local WHS student, Destiny Palmer, recently completed a series of art murals in the children's department at the Charles Whitehead Public Library.

Destiny is currently the president of the WHS National Art Honor Society, under the supervision of Mr. Stuart Vines. She was able to obtain 33.50 Bright Scholarship hours by completing this project. These colorful murals depict multiple popular children's book characters: Pete the Cat, Cat in the Hat, Llama Llama and Hungry Caterpillar. A brief interview was performed with Destiny to learn more about her. Joelle interviews Destiny about the Project:

Library: Which is your favorite mural and why?

Destiny: I'm proud of The Cat in the Hat mural. It takes up the whole space and I think it captures attention the most. Plus, I took a long time perfecting the line-work on it.

Library: How have your skills improved after this summer's project? Destiny: I've gotten better at doing bigger projects in a shorter amount of time. The proportions were a lot different than what I'm used to doing. Also, I had to stand on an 8-foot ladder to do the murals, so I had to learn how to balance my supplies up there. I feel more comfortable doing murals, it was a new experience for me!

Library: How does this project differ from the ones you have completed in the past? Destiny: Usually paint isn't my chosen art medium. I prefer doing small, detailed pencil sketches. Whenever I have painted, it's always been on an 11"x14" canvas. The murals were huge in comparison.

Library: Of all your works of art, what are you most proud of? Destiny: This is a hard question; I don't really know if I can pick just one. I love the llama painting that I did in the library. The colors are vibrant and it's more my painting style than the others were. But as far as past works, I think I would have to say the Plain Air painting that I did last spring. A few of us got selected by Coach Vines to go to an art festival in Apalachicola, and I got paired with Tara Wills to do an oil painting. I had to work in real time and paint what I saw in front of me. The experience was completely new, and the painting turned out pretty amazing!

“Where is your hair”

Gulf County Breeze, Edward Bandjough
Owner and Publisher, February 2, 1961

8¢ per copy

Submitted by Tom Semmes

Anyone tell you lately: “Son, I do declare you’re losing your hair!” If anyone does, son, just aim well and fire back: “O dear friend, my hair’s still there; it’s your eyes that’re going, going, gone!”

Fact is, baldness is not loss of hair, says the never-wrong Academy of Dermatology. Their view (without glasses, which they may very well need) is that hair on the dome just becomes shorter, thinner, finer and, finally as the eyes of your observant friends go from bad to worse, they can’t see your hair cover on your dome at all! But friends there’s hair there, as heavy as film of cobwebs, well-polished.

So, friends with corn silk batches, don’t say that’s neither hair, nor there. “Cause Tis.” And, companions of the cobwebbed clan, stiff upper lip! All’s well. It’s still up there if no one, including you, can see it. Just keep insisting and if your worsening-eyed friends will not believe you, just you had them that five-power microscope.

PREACHER GLASS... Story by Retired Sheriff deputy James Bagby.

“The Sheriff gave me a warrant to serve in the north end of the county and the person was playing hard to get. I meet Preacher and he asked about it and he said stay right there I'll be back shortly. In just a few minutes he came back, and the man was in his back seat. He could find anyone in a short amount of time.

One night he had a vehicle stopped and the driver jumped back into the car and locked the door and would not listen to Preacher. I pulled up and Preacher kept telling him to open the door and get out. After a few minutes he yelled at the man and told him to cover his eyes, he used his flashlight and busted out the car window, then pulled the man out of the window. He told the man, “you must have thought I was asking you to get out of the vehicle, I was telling you.” JB

NATIONAL & FLORIDA GRANTS

by Tom Wynn

In my research on saving some important buildings in Wewahitchka and our local area, I found the following grants via the U.S. Federal Government and the State of Florida as well. So, dig down deep and find some time to save something important to you and to your neighbors using these possible grants, Google these: 1. “National Historic Preservation Act of 1966” 2. “38 CFR Part 800-Protection of Historic Properties Incorporating amendments effective August 5, 2004” 3. “Save America's Treasures Grants” see the National Historic Preservation Act 54 USC 300101 4. The Dept. Of Historical Resources (a part of the Dept of State (FL) Special Cat. Grant)

There is more, but this should get you started. Get HOT! Save our national and local treasures while we still can.

True power is in “We the People”. TW

Honesty Honey House

Cynde Aaron, a local hobbyist beekeeper, placed a “Honesty Honey House” by her driveway to sell her organic honey at her driveway for those who are wanting some fine-tasting honey.

She decided it would give her customers total access to her sweet honey when she was not at home. The price is right, and the honey will be available as often as you like while supplies last. Please leave her a note and thank her for her hard work of love. She loves her bees, and they love her. She uses no chemicals to treat her bees, and she does her best to keep it that way. Give her a call and she will give you the address to the location of the Honey House. She captures her bees via “swarm capture,” so if you have bees in your barn or house, give her a call at 850-628-0745 or contact her by email: cocomistle@msn.com
